

James Hoover is a UX Designer in Seattle. He excels at User Research & Analytics, Information Architecture, and Interaction Design.

EXPERIENCEFreelance

2015 - Present

UX Designer

- Work independently to design the user experience of a diverse set of products
- Manage multiple clients and projects to consistently deliver within competitive timeframe

Clients Include:DealTapp - Lead UX Designer

- Helped create company and product
- In charge of all design related decisions
- Perform usability testing to evaluate the product

Didricksen Construction - UX Design/Development

- Created wireframes based on needs of the client
- Use data analysis to verify current designs

Cequint Inc

2012 - 2015

Integration Engineer

- Reached out to AT&T, Samsung, LG, and other clients to ensure integration of the applications went smoothly
 - Designed and developed tools to increase productivity of daily tasks
 - Wrote, tested, and fixed code used by millions of mobile devices
-

EDUCATIONGeneral Assembly

2016

Certification in User Experience Design

Gonzaga University

2012

B.S. Degree in Computer Science

SKILLSExpertise

User Research and Analytics, Content Strategy, Information Architecture, Interaction Design, Visual Design, Front End Development, Web Usability, Responsive Design, Agile and Lean Methodologies, Software Development

Tools

Sketch, Photoshop, Illustrator, Invision, HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Ruby on Rails, GIT, Google Analytics